9. BASKET OF CHEER RAFFLE

As a fundraiser, we have found raffling off a basket of cheer to be a very worthwhile project. Therefore, as part of this year's Harvest Dinner activities, a basket of wines and spirits will be awarded some lucky winner. Rather than waiting to collect donations closer to the November 17 event, we prefer to begin collecting them early so that tickets could then be available for sale during various events at our parish center preceding the November dinner such as after-Liturgy socials, pyrohy pick-ups, flea market, LUC meeting, etc. Kristen Waznak has again volunteered to coordinate the project and asks that items for the basket be brought to our hall and clearly marked with the name of the person making the donation. Kristen can be reached at 570 241-1223. Depending upon the number and variety of items available this year, we may even be able to raffle two baskets. Thank you again to all who donated to our last most successful cheer raffle and for considering supporting this year's project.

Condemn Ourselves for Our Sins, and to Forgive Others

Two things therefore does He here require, both to condemn ourselves for our sins, and to forgive others; and the former for the sake of the latter, that this may become more easy (for he who considers his own sins is more indulgent to his fellow-servant); and not merely to forgive with the lips, but from the heart.

Let us not then thrust the sword into ourselves by being revengeful. For what grief has he who has grieved you inflicted upon you, like you will work unto yourself by keeping your anger in mind, and drawing upon yourself the sentence from God to condemn you? For if indeed you are watchful, and keepest yourself under control, the evil will come round upon his head, and it will be he that will suffer harm; but if you should continue indignant, and displeased, then yourself will undergo the harm not from him, but from yourself.

For if we be willing, no one shall be able to injure us, but even our enemies shall advantage us in the greatest degree. And why do I speak of men? For what can be more wicked than the devil; yet nevertheless, even hence have we a great opportunity of approving ourselves; and Job shows it. But if the devil has become a cause of crowns, why are you afraid of a man as an enemy?

See then how much you gain, bearing meekly the spiteful acts of your enemies. First and greatest, deliverance from sins; secondly, fortitude and patience; thirdly, mildness and benevolence; for he that knows not how to be angry with them that grieve him, much more will he be ready to serve them that love him. Fourthly, to be free from anger continually, to which nothing can be equal. For of him that is free from anger, it is quite clear that he is delivered also from the despondency hence arising, and will not spend his life on vain labors and sorrows.

St. John Chrysostom
