Our Church and the Veil of the Blessed Virgin Mary

In the eighth century Empress Irene called the Second Council of Nicaea which ended the iconoclast heresy. The Veil of the Blessed Virgin Mary had come from Jerusalem to Constantinople. To strengthen unity with the West, Empress Irene donated the Veil to Charlemagne.

In 876 Charles II gave the Veil to the church in Chartres. Since that time the people of Chartres have recognized the Veil as protecting them from the worst of war, famine and the plague. Since the ninth century the people of Chartres have honored the Mother's Veil by a public procession on August 15th, the feast of the Assumption.

When the devil instigated the French Revolution, they tried to destroy the Veil. They destroyed the reliquary but found it empty. Devout people had cut it into several sections and hid it. When the revolution had subsided they returned them to the Cathedral.

At that time small pieces were put into minor reliquaries. The holy founders and builders of St. Vladimir's obtained one and it rests on the Mary altar.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1. REDNER'S RECEIPTS

Regarding the Redner receipt church participation program: Since COVID it's been difficult to process receipts. Here is the way the program works: You need to get a Redners Card first. Then you have to physically turn in the receipts to Leslie Izak. You must have your Redner's number on the receipt. But keep in mind, if the church doesn't get over $10,000 a year in receipts, we do not receive anything.

2. DORMITION OF THE MOTHER OF GOD

The Byzantine Emperor Mauritius (582-602) established the Feast of the Dormition of the Blessed Virgin Mary on Aug. 15 for the Eastern Church, which celebrated our Lady's death and assumption. By the end of the sixth century, the West likewise celebrated the feast under the title of "the Assumption." Whether we use "dormition" or "assumption," the fundamental belief remains the same. The Catechism states, "The Assumption of the Blessed Virgin is a singular participation in her Son's resurrection and an anticipation of the resurrection of other Christians: 'In giving birth you kept your virginity; in your Dormition you did not leave the world, O Mother of God, but were joined to the source of Life. You conceived the living God and, by your prayers, will deliver our souls from death.'"

Explanation to the Emperor

There is nothing in the holy, inspired Scripture about the death of Mary, the holy Mother of God. But we know from ancient and wholly reliable tradition that at the time she so gloriously fell asleep, all the holy Apostles, who were traveling the world for the salvation of the peoples, were lifted up in a single instant of time and were gathered at Jerusalem; and as they stood by her, they saw a vision of angels, and heard the divine chanting of the higher powers ... Her body, which had been God's dwelling place, was brought for burial amidst the singing of the angels and the Apostles, and laid to rest in a coffin in Gethsemane; and the angelic dancing and singing continued without pause in that place for three days. But after three days, the song of the angels ceased; the Apostles were there, and since one of them, Thomas, had not been present (for her burial and came at the end of three days) and wished to reverence that body which had housed God, they opened the coffin. And they could not find her body, which had been the object of such praise; all that they found were her burial wrappings. And being overcome by the ineffable fragrance that came out of the wrappings, they closed the coffin again. Amazed by this miraculous discovery, they could only draw a single conclusion: the one Who had deigned to become flesh in her own person, and to take His humanity from her, the one Who willed to be born in human flesh as God the Word, the Lord of glory, and Who had preserved her virginity intact even after childbirth, now chose, after her departure from this world, to honor her immaculate and pure body with the gift of incorruptibility, and with a change of state even before the common, universal resurrection.

St. Juvenal, Patriarch of Jerusalem
