ANNOUNCEMENTS

12. CATHOLIC SCHOOL ALLOWS UKRAINIAN KIDS TO BE SAFE FROM WAR

Children at a Ukrainian Catholic school in New Jersey are remembering loved ones left behind in Ukraine, as Russia's full-scale invasion of that country continues. Assumption Ukrainian Catholic School in Perth Amboy, New Jersey, now counts 18 students who recently fled the war in Ukraine. The refugees have created a special wall of remembrance, filled with pictures of family and friends who remain in Ukraine. Every day, the Assumption students offer an extra Hail Mary for them. "We have many kids whose relatives are fighting in the war, and one girl's grandfather was killed," said Father Ivan Turyk, the school's chief administrator and pastor of the school's parish, Ukrainian Catholic Church of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary in Perth Amboy. Father Turyk, a native of Ukraine who emigrated to the U.S. in 1999 to enter St. Josaphat's Ukrainian Catholic Seminary in Washington, D.C., said most of the school's Ukrainian children arrived in this country with only their mothers and female relatives. Men from 18 to 60 are not allowed to leave Ukraine amid the war. "Some kids stay at school for the whole day, and we become parents for them," he said. "We teach them to tie their shoes and say that they did a good job with coloring." Eighth-grader Anya Savka came three months ago from the western Ukrainian town of Sambir with her mother while her father stayed in Ukraine. Principal Lissette Shumny described Savka as one of the school's most hard-working students. For her part, Savka, who enjoys algebra, said teachers and classmates have been "really nice," adding she appreciates their help as she learns English. While most of the refugees have come from Ukraine's "more or less safe" western region, many have nonetheless been "traumatized," said Father Turyk. Shumny said that trauma becomes vividly apparent during security drills for overall school safety. "Although we explained why we do lockdowns, and why we do shelter in place, during the first drill a couple of kids were crying," she said, noting all of Assumption's teachers are trained in trauma-informed care. "It is scary for regular students. ... Imagine someone coming from (Ukraine) hearing those alarms." The school provides "a stable environment" where the kids "have friends ... and teachers who speak some Ukrainian," said Father Turyk. A stable environment is what most Ukrainian children need. The ongoing war has disrupted the education process for more than 5 million children, according to UNICEF. That deficit compounds two years of lost learning due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Fifth Sunday of Lent

Troparion:

Though the stone was sealed by the Judeans and soldiers guarded Your most pure body, You arose, O Savior, on the third day, and gave life to the world. And so the heavenly powers cried out to You, O Giver of Life: Glory to Your resurrection, O Christ! Glory to Your kingdom! Glory to Your saving plan, O only Lover of Mankind.

Troparion:

The divine image was faithfully preserved in you, O mother, for taking up the Cross, you followed Christ. By your deeds you have taught us to see beyond flesh, which passes, and care for the soul, a thing immortal. And so, O venerable Mary, your spirit rejoices with the angels.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit. Now and forever and ever. Amen.

Kontakion:

Once you were filled with every impurity, now through repentance you have been revealed as a bride of Christ; following the angelic life, you crushed demons with the weapon of the Cross. Therefore, O glorious Mary, you have been shown to be a bride of the kingdom.

Prokeimenon: Let Your mercy, O Lord, be upon us, as we have hoped in You.

Verse: Bless the Lord, O my soul; O Lord my God, You are exceedingly great.

Prokeimenon: God is wonderful in His saints, the God of Israel

Alleluia verses:

God gives me vindication, and has subdued peoples under me.

Making great the salvation of the king, and showing mercy to His anointed, to David, and to His posterity forever.

SUNDAY ONLY (Page 293) Instead of "It is truly..." :

In you, O Full of Grace, all creation rejoices: the angelic ranks and all the human race. Sanctified temple and spiritual paradise, virgins' pride and boast, from whom God is made flesh and became a little Child; and He who is our God before the ages, He made your womb a throne, and He made it wider than all the heavens. In you, O Full of Grace, all creation rejoices. Glory be to you!

Communion Verse:

Praise the Lord from the heavens; praise Him in the highest.

The just man shall be in everlasting remembrance; of evil hearsay he shall have no fear.

Alleluia (3).

Epistle (Heb 9:11-14)

A Reading from the Epistle of the Holy Apostle Paul to the Hebrews:

Brethren: When Christ came as high priest of the good things that have come to be, passing through the greater and more perfect tabernacle not made by hands, that is, not belonging to this creation, he entered once for all into the sanctuary, not with the blood of goats and calves but with his own blood, thus obtaining eternal redemption. For if the blood of goats and bulls and the sprinkling of heifer's ashes can sanctify those who are defiled so that their flesh is cleansed, how much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself unblemished to God, cleanse our consciences from dead works to worship the living God.

Gospel: (Mk 10:32-45)

At that time, taking the Twelve aside Jesus again began to tell them what was going to happen to him. "Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be handed over to the chief priests and the scribes, and they will condemn him to death and hand him over to the Gentiles who will mock him, spit upon him, scourge him, and put him to death, but after three days he will rise." Then James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came to him and said to him, "Teacher, we want you to do for us whatever we ask of you." He replied, "What do you wish [me] to do for you?" They answered him, "Grant that in your glory we may sit one at your right and the other at your left." Jesus said to them, "You do not know what you are asking. Can you drink the cup that I drink or be baptized with the baptism with which I am baptized?" They said to him, "We can." Jesus said to them, "The cup that I drink, you will drink, and with the baptism with which I am baptized, you will be baptized; but to sit at my right or at my left is not mine to give but is for those for whom it has been prepared." When the ten heard this, they became indignant at James and John. Jesus summoned them and said to them, "You know that those who are recognized as rulers over the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones make their authority over them felt. But it shall not be so among you. Rather, whoever wishes to be great among you will be your servant; whoever wishes to be first among you will be the slave of all. For the Son of Man did not come to be served but to serve and to give his life as a ransom for many."

WITH JOY WE KEEP THE HOLY FAST (PAGE 1008-ANTHOLOGY)

With joy we keep the holy Fast.
And gather on the Lord's own Day.
That through his word and Sacrament,
We may give thanks to Christ, the Way.

Now is the time acceptable!
Today the day, the day our Savior calls!
Let us cast off the weight of sin.
And rise again from evil's falls.

No soul so sick you cannot save,
No life so foul You cannot cleanse;
As with Saint Mary, turn us round,
And give us grace to work amends.
