11. HAYTARMA

On May 18, 1944, the Soviet regime perpetrated a heinous act by forcibly deporting the Crimean Tatar people from their ancestral homeland of Crimea to remote regions of Uzbekistan, Kazakhstan, and the Russian Federation. Around 200,000 Crimean Tatars were deported from their homeland, and according to the self-census of the National Movement of Crimean Tatars, this figure amounts to 423,100. Women, children, the elderly were brutally packed into cattle trains. Nearly 8,000 Crimean Tatars died during the deportation, while tens of thousands perished subsequently due to the harsh exile conditions. In 2014, history tragically echoed for the Crimean Tatar people as the Russian Federation unlawfully seized Crimea. For 10 years Crimean Tatars are persecuted. From the Fathers

When you perceive that God is chastising you, fly not to his enemies . . . but to his friends, the martyrs, the saints, and those who were pleasing to him, and who have great power ...

St. John Chrysostom

A Christian people celebrates together in religious solemnity the memorials of the martyrs, both to encourage their being imitated and so that it can share in their merits and be aided by their prayers.

St. Augustine of Hippo

In this way is he [the true Christian] always pure for prayer. He also prays in the society of angels, as being already of angelic rank, and he is never out of their holy keeping; and though he pray alone, he has the choir of the saints standing with him.

St. Clement of Alexandria

In addition to the study and true knowledge of the Scriptures are needed a good life and pure soul and virtue in Christ, so that the mind, journeying in this path, may be able to obtain and apprehend what it desires, in so far as human nature is able to learn about God the Word. For without a pure mind and a life modeled on the saints, no one can apprehend the words of the saints.

St. Athanasius the Great

The divine Scripture likewise says that the souls of the just are in God's hand and death cannot lay hold of them. For death is rather the sleep of the saints than their death. "For they travailed in this life and shall to the end," and "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints." What then, is more precious than to be in the hand of God. For God is Life and Light, and those who are in God's hand are in life and light.

St. John of Damascus
